WORK ORGANIZATION AND MSD

Organizational policies and procedures

- Occupational Health & Safety Practices
- Planning of Prevention Activities
- Health & Safety Leadership
- Occupational Health & Safety Management System
- Control, Monitoring, and Review of OHS Activities

Work organization determines how work is organized, paid and supervised.

Work organization ties the worker and the workplace together. This creates the work postures, forces required, and recovery possibilities.

- Repetition
- High Forces
- Lack of Recovery
- Awkward Postures